This workshop covers all aspects of languages, compiler techniques, run-time environments, and compiler-related performance evaluation for parallel and high-performance computing. Since 1988, the annual LCPC workshops have provided a forum for leading researchers and practitioners to present their latest work and to exchange ideas about future directions.

Important Dates

- Abstract submission: July 14, 2006
- Full paper submission: July 21, 2006
- Decision notification: September 15, 2006
- Camera-ready version: October 9, 2006
- Workshop date: November 2-4, 2006

The final proceedings will be published as a volume in the Springer Lecture Notes in Computer Science series. Please limit the paper to 15 pages in the Springer LNCS format.
